MALVERN, Pa., Jan. 9, 2014 /PRNewswire/ --

- Altaris Capital Partners to acquire HealthTronics for a total consideration of up to $130 million including $85 Million in cash upfront

Endo Health Solutions (Nasdaq: ENDP) today announced it has entered into a definitive agreement to sell its HealthTronics business to Altaris Capital Partners, LLC for an upfront cash payment of $85 million, subject to cash and other working capital adjustments. In addition, Endo will receive rights to additional cash payments of up to $45 million based on the future operating performance of HealthTronics for a total consideration of up to $130 million. The company previously divested two operating divisions of HealthTronics, its image guided radiation therapy (IGRT) and its anatomical pathology laboratory businesses, for total consideration of approximately $25 million.

"The divestiture of HealthTronics enables us to focus more sharply on achieving our objective of building Endo into a leading product-based specialty healthcare company," said Rajiv De Silva, president and CEO of Endo. "I am pleased that the agreement with Altaris will provide an opportunity for the employees of HealthTronics to join an organization that will focus on growing this leading provider of products and services to U.S.-based Urologists."

Today's transaction and the earlier announced sale of HealthTronics' anatomical pathology business and IGRT business completes Endo's full divestiture of all HealthTronics businesses.

The transaction is expected to close in the first quarter of 2014, subject to customary conditions, including the expiration or termination of any applicable waiting periods under applicable competition laws.
